LIEUT. KRAMER IS BACK

TRINITY MAN WOUNDED IN SERVICE, VISITING COLLEGE.

First Lieutenant John S. Kramer, '17, of the 103rd Infantry, 26th Division, who has just returned from France on board the Noordam, is visiting at Trinity for a few days, staying at the Psi Upsilon House. Lieutenant Kramer was severely wounded in the right side by a machine gun bullet and was invalided home. He has seen considerable action on the Toul front and at Chemin des Dames. For four months, he was a scout officer. He was twice cited for bravery in this capacity. As 1st Battalion Intelligence Officer, he took part in the battle of Chateau Thierry. He received his wound at Belleau Wood, in the taking of Hill 190 on July 20. He was sent to a hospital at Nice where he remained for two months and a half. On August 15, Kramer was promoted to First Lieutenant. He reported for duty October 2, but was not at that time assigned, since he was still too weak for active service. Kramer was with the 26th Division all the time that he was in the service. Though there were no Trinity men in his battalion, nevertheless he did meet some Trinity men, among them: Ingersoll, '15, Ramsell, '11, Astlett, '18, and Simonson, '19.

JOHN S. KRAMER, '17.

POLITICAL SCIENCE CLUB TO GIVE SMOKER APRIL 10.

Major M. G. Bulkeley and Major J. H. Kelso Davis, '99, will be the speakers at a smoker to be given in the College Union by the Political Science Club on Thursday evening, April 10, at 8 o'clock. Major Bulkeley was in command of the 101st Machine Gun Battalion overseas, in which Trinity has such a large representation. He returned to this country only four months ago having been gassed and invalided home. He will no doubt have some interesting messages to bear from the Trinity men in the battalion. Major Davis, of the United States Ordnance Department, formerly commander of Troop B, Fifth Militia Cavalry, was made military director of Trinity during the R. O. T. C. regime of two years ago.

DR. LUTHER FOR STATE BOARD.

A petition bearing the names of nearly a thousand prominent men of New Haven and Bridgeport requesting the appointment of Dr. Luther to the State Board of Education was presented to the committee on education of the Connecticut General Assembly last Tuesday. This committee has before it two resolutions reappointing Howell Cheney, of Manchester, and John G. Stanton, of New London, to the Board of Education, and it has been proposed by some of the members of the committee to report a substitute resolution naming Dr. Luther, in the place of that appointing Mr. Cheney.

It is said that the presentation of the petition is merely the first step on the part of those behind the move, to secure Dr. Luther's appointment and that they are circulating other similar petitions in all parts of the state. It is also said that they are prepared to carry a contest to the floor of the House of Representatives and also to the Senate.

TWO MORE TRINITY MEN AT THE SORBONNE

RECEIVE LEAVE OF ABSENCE TO TAKE THREE MONTHS' COURSE.

Captain Anson T. McCook, '02, and Corporal William L. Peck, '16, have both been awarded appointments to attend the Sorbonne, at Paris, having been given leave of absence for the duration of a three months' course at that university.

Captain McCook was originally in command of Co. E., 320th Infantry, 80th Division, being transferred to the 317th Infantry of the same division just before being assigned on Detached Service to attend the Department of Law at the Sorbonne. About four months ago, he sustained a fracture of the right arm in the discharge of his duty, but has now completely recovered. Captain McCook graduated from Trinity as an "optimus."

Corporal Peck, who was attached to the 6th Machine Gun Battalion of the 6th Marines, was with the marines when they blocked the way of the Germans at Chateau Thierry. He was slightly wounded near Soissons in July and was sent to the hospital, but recovered in time to take part in the St. Mihiel drive. Corporal Peck was also in the final battle of the war and afterwards was with the occupational army which marched through Belgium, Luxemburg and Germany up to the Rhine, where he was stationed just before he received leave of absence to attend the Sorbonne at Paris.

Work on the compilation of the college catalogue has been completed and the catalogues are expected to appear in the near future.

THE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION DECIDES ON TENNIS

BASEBALL NINE GETTING READY FOR FIRST GAME.

Lineup Not Yet Announced.

Trinity's baseball season opens this Saturday, April 5th, with the game against Brown University, at Providence, R. I. Candidates have been practicing in the cage for nearly one month and have had one week of outdoor practice. The storm of last Friday and Saturday gave the team a serious set-back but Coach Burns expects that the field will be in condition again by Tuesday. This will allow four days of outdoor practice before the opening game, during which time, the team will be put through intensive practice and whipped into shape.

Coach Burns is not willing yet to announce the probable lineup for the game. The results of last term's work leaves some doubt as to the faculty ruling on several members of the squad, but if no action is taken, it is probable that Nelson Shepard and "Scooty" Matchton will make up the battery.

Judging from the showing made at practice, the infield will be picked from Cram, Poss, Reynolds, Racine and Lynch. In the outfield, the candidates include Curtis, Bruce, Nichols and perhaps King and Goldstein, who are also out for pitching honors. The last few days have been devoted largely to batting practice and to long work-outs for the batteries.

PROF. GARNIER TAKES OVER PHILOSOPHY COURSES.

In the absence of Dr. Wilbur M. Urban as visiting lecturer at Harvard for the remainder of the academic year, Professor Horatio K. Garnier will take charge of the department of philosophy and psychology at Trinity. Professor Garnier has for the past three years been a resident at Columbia University, during which time he has conducted courses at Vassar and Columbia and completed his graduate work. He is now awaiting action on his thesis for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy. His dissertation on "The Philosophy of John Stuart Mill", is the first keen analysis of that philosopher's non-partisan position among his contemporaries. Prior to his work at Columbia, Professor Garnier held the position of Professor of Philosophy at St. Stephen's College for four years. He holds the degree of Bachelor of Divinity from both the Union and the General Theological seminaries.

Professor Garnier announces that, in the courses he is to conduct, he will make an effort to get away from the usual aspect of the studies and to consider them in a more informal way.

FATE OF TRACK UNDECIDED.

Dependent on Result of Membership Campaign.

At a meeting of the Athletic Association held Monday evening, March 31, it was decided that tennis be carried on as a spring sport along with baseball, and that the appropriation necessary to support a track team be dependent upon the result of a campaign to be carried on during the rest of the week. Mr. Harvey C. Pond, '08, Chairman of the Advisory Committee, was called upon to tell the members of the A. A. something of the conditions of the Association's finances. Mr. Pond has done some splendid work coördinating the forces of alumni support with the activities of the undergraduate body, having kept in close touch with Trinity athletics.

In discussing the matter, Mr. Pond was convinced that baseball should receive first consideration since this was very obviously the sentiment of the last meeting.

R. W. Wyse, '18, manager of track, outlined the tentative schedule he had prepared. He has had liberal offers from Union College at Schenectady, and from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, at Troy. This schedule also includes meets with Wesleyan and Connecticut Agricultural College. He said that since the former members of the track team have all agreed to purchase their own equipment the season could be successfully run on a sum considerably less than that estimated before.

Paul A. Harding, '18, then put up a vigorous plea for tennis. He stated that with the material in college now, and with the enthusiasm exhibited at the meeting of candidates, a successful season could be expected. He said Dr. Luther had promised to see that the college courts be put in condition, and relieved of this expense the team would be able to get along on a reasonably small appropriation.

It was then moved and carried that tennis be supported as a College activity; that the Athletic Association grant it an amount sufficient to meet expenses of guarantees and cost of trophies, and that the unofficial appointment of Joseph Hartzmark as manager be sanctioned. In a subsequent motion, Harding's plan for an interscholastic meet under an arrangement with the National Lawn Tennis Association was accepted.

It was then agreed, if sufficient new memberships be secured, that Mr. Johnson be empowered to instruct the track manager to proceed with his plans. It is necessary that this be done at once, as the season is already well advanced. Plans were made for a spirited campaign to secure new subscriptions.

"NOW THEN TRINITY"

The Trinity branch of the Y. M. C. A. has not organized this year, not enough interest having been shown in the organization to warrant any efforts on the part of those of us who care. The College Union was started with a whirl the latter part of January but it stopped just as suddenly. The Senate voted five weeks ago to carry on an inter-mural basketball league and appointed a committee to take charge of it but the league did not materialize. All these things which had as their main purpose the intensification of the college spirit to offset too strong a fraternity spirit have "fallen through." These things which would give us an opportunity to get into closer touch with one another have virtually been dropped.

One of the main causes for the willingness on the part of those who are interested in the Y. M. C. A., to sit still and see that organization inactive, is the fact that there is not much for the Y. M. C. A. to do. On the other hand, the reason why the upper-classmen do not more readily become members of the College Union is that they feel that they have not been getting their money's worth in former years. This is probably true to a certain extent, for a large portion of the Union funds which would otherwise have been used for buying newspapers and magazines have had to be used for the replacing of cues and for repairing other damage done for the most part by non-members.

It seems that both of these obstacles to the success of these two organizations could be overcome by placing the Union in charge of the Y. M. C. A. The Y. M. C. A. would thereby be given something to do besides the mere temporary tasks of publishing "Freshman Bibles," holding socials for the faculty and the undergraduate body, and conducting vespers on Sunday afternoons. On the other hand, membership in the Union would undoubtedly increase rapidly if a responsible organization like the Y. M. C. A. were put in charge, an organization which would be large enough to insure, if necessary, the presence of at least one member throughout the day.

After the Union had thus established itself with a reasonably large number of members, it would be an easy matter to make membership a very desirable thing. It would cost no more to run the Union for one hundred than for twenty-five members. Thus, after a certain membership is reached, all the additional funds can be used for constructive purposes and the number of members would increase automatically without solicitation. It certainly seems that with the Y. M. C. A. in charge, the primary purpose of the College Union as signified by its very name, would be accomplished.

Through some error, the name of the new Greek-letter society formerly known as the Hartford Club was incorrectly printed in our last issue. The correct name is Alpha Tau Kappa.

JULIAN STUART CARTER, '98.

Julian Stuart Carter, a graduate in the Class of 1898, died at his home in Baltimore, Maryland, September 20, 1918. He was the son of Bernard and Mary (Ridgely) Carter, and was born in Baltimore, Maryland, May 16, 1876. His father who was a prominent lawyer in Baltimore, received the honorary degree of Doctor of Law from Trinity College in 1838. Mr. Carter prepared for college at St. James' School, Maryland. On graduating from Trinity with the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1898, he entered the General Theological Seminary, where he studied for two years; at the end of which time he gave up his studies for the ministry, and was for some time engaged in banking in Philadelphia. In 1901, he became private secretary to the President of the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Baltimore, which position he held for four years. He then formed the real estate firm of Caughy, Hearn and Carter, in Baltimore. He married on June 22, 1906, Miss Alice Bowden Rush, of Philadelphia, and is survived by his wife and three children.

SCHMITT, '16, "AIR CHAUFFEUR" FOR J. P. MORGAN.

Erhardt G. Schmitt, '16, who has just recently been discharged from the U. S. Air Service, is soon to return to the role of airman when he becomes an aviator on the wheat ranch of J. Pierpont Morgan at Hardin, Montana. To enable the manager of the ranch, which is about 250 miles long, to get speedily to any part, it was decided to provide him with an airplane and Schmitt is to fly it. It will also be arranged so that the plane may keep in touch with the ranch headquarters by wireless. Before receiving his discharge Schmitt had just returned to this country from France where he was an instructor in an army flying school.

The insurance company has let a contract for the repairing of the fire-damaged bleachers on the west side of the athletic field and the carpenters have already started their work. Two sections of the bleachers were almost completely destroyed by a grass fire six weeks ago.

AN EDUCATED MAN.

An educated man must have, first of all, wide knowledge of our human past—both the past of events and that of mind—so that he may be properly and not rawly modern, a citizen of Time, not a mere visitor. Then he should know some one science accurately and well, together with the method of science in general; and from this he should get some notion of what is meant by "progress." He should practise at least one art devotedly, both to gain a means of self-expansion and to get himself a sympathetic understanding of the great company of the world's artists; and from this he may learn that nothing of real human importance has shown anything like progress for 2000 years. And finally, I think, he should know something about the stars, in order that he may see how little, after all, any of these other matters really count.

TENNIS OUTLOOK PROMISING.

Tennis promises to be a real live sport at Trinity this year to judge from the present outlook. The management expects to arrange a very good schedule, the prospects for a winning team are better than they have been for some years past, and the Trinity courts are to be put in good condition so that the practicing and the home matches may be carried on on the campus instead of in the city parks.

Manager Hartzmark has already entered into negotiations with several of the leading New England colleges and universities. He expects to have a tentative schedule of about six matches ready for ratification by the Graduate Advisory Committee in a few weeks.

With seven men at college who have represented the Blue and Gold on the courts in previous years, and with a wealth of material to select from in the freshman class, Trinity should be able to form a team that can contest on even terms with any other college aggregation. Samuel H. Edsall, '15, the winner, with Burwin, '14, of the New England Inter-Collegiate doubles in 1914 and runner-up in the singles, is now doing graduate work at Trinity and, if he could not himself play on the team this year, would be willing to act as coach. Paul C. Harding, '18, who is acting captain of the team, was captain during the 1917 season, and Joseph Hartzmark, '20, manager of the team, was captain last year. Besides these men there are E. M. Hyland, '19, winner of the college tournament last year; Nichols, '20, Levine, '20, and Strong, '21, all of whom represented Trinity in matches last year; and the freshman class contains a number of men who have played the game, among them Henson, a former Trinity Chapel tennis star. With this abundance of material, the tennis management is certain that it can put a team on the courts which will render a very good account of itself.

As for the Trinity courts, they will probably not be ready for use in less than two weeks. Manager Hartzmark is making arrangements, however, so that if the candidates are called before the courts are put in condition, as it is probable they will be, the practicing may be carried on either in the city parks or on one of the indoor courts in the city.

Medical Inspector McWalter B. Sutton, '99, who sailed to Russia as Ship's Surgeon on board the U. S. S. Ascutney with the Red Cross Commission last August, has recently been elected National Surgeon of the U. S. Naval Association and has also been elected National Surgeon-General of the United American War Veterans. The latter association, which has already applied for a congressional charter, has for its main object the welding into one compact and nation-wide federation all the military and naval veterans of the United States of all wars. The association will uphold the ideals, the integrity and the institutions of the Republic, whether they are menaced from foes within or without. It will guard the interests of veterans and will aid them and their dependents if disabled or sick. All honorably discharged men or women who have served in the United States Army, Navy or Marine Corps may become members. This election of Dr. Sutton automatically puts him on the National Staff of the Association.

1918 MEN NOT TO PARTICIPATE IN CLASS DAY EXERCISES.

A meeting of the Class of 1919 was held Thursday noon to discuss plans for the class day exercises. Before making any definite arrangements for class day, it was decided to invite the eleven members of the Class of 1918 to take part in the exercises, since these men were absent from the exercises of their own class through no fault of theirs, being in military or some other form of government service. It was suggested that each of the two classes have a separate statistician, prophet and historian, and that the rest of the class day officers be selected jointly from the two classes. A committee, consisting of Barber, Nordstrom and Shepherd, was appointed to get the views of the 1918 men on the matter.

The plan was presented to the 1918 men at their meeting on Friday by Arthur M. Goldstein, 1919 class president. After a short discussion, they voted not to participate in the class day exercises and decided instead to have a reunion of the class during Commencement Week, since it is expected that a large number of 1918 men will be at Trinity at that time. As a preliminary step towards this reunion, Rufus C. Phillips was elected chairman of the committee on arrangements.

CORP. CARLSON, '18, RESUMES STUDIES AT TRINITY.

Corporal Carl Carlson is one of the men recently returned to Trinity from the National service overseas. He is of the class of '18, having left college over a year and a half ago to enter the army. Corp. Carlson was in the 303rd Machine Gun Battalion, well-known now as being among the first detachments of drafted men to arrive in France. He saw over six months of foreign service with his unit, and has now been discharged and will complete his work at Trinity this June. Corp. Carlson is a member of the Alpha Tau Kappa Fraternity.

The fourth meeting of the Literary Club was held Thursday evening in Dr. Odell Shepard's apartment. A very interesting discussion followed the reading of a paper on "Men's Raiment," by James K. Callaghan, '22, describing the origin of dress and the peculiarities of the swiftly changing fashions, after which Dr. Shepard read several short poems written by some of the foremost modern poets. The next meeting, to be held on Tuesday evening, April 1, will be concerned with a discussion of college life. Short papers will be read as follows: Rufus C. Phillips, '18, on "The College Faculty"; James K. Callaghan, '22, "College Spirit"; Edward Hungerford, '22, "College Wit"; Thurston B. Macauley, '22, "College Morals"; and Richard C.
